Court Ruling

Lounsbury v. Bank of America

The court having taken the matter under submission, now rules as follows:

The Court DENIES plaintiffs' motion for summary adjudication on the ground that they have admitted in the verified First Amended Complaint that the security for the loan included the Base Annual Production Rights and that those rights passed in the foreclosure of their real property.

The Court DENIES the motion for summary adjudication of plaintiffs' Issue No. 1 on the ground that they have failed to meet their prima facie burden of showing that they are entitled to judgment on the cause of action for Quiet Title because the mere fact that a right to take water can be transferred does not make that right personal property or prevent it from passing with the property when it is not severed or expressly excluded from the transfer.

The Court DENIES plaintiffs' motion for summary adjudication of their Issue No. 2 on the ground that plaintiffs have failed to meet their prima facie burden on summary adjudication because the production rights are real property rights they passed with the real property in the conveyances unless they were expressly excepted from such transfer and plaintiffs present no undisputed facts to show that the rights were expressly excepted.

The Court DENIES plaintiffs' motion for summary adjudication of their Issue No. 3 on the ground that plaintiffs have failed to meet their prima facie burden of showing that their Quiet Title cause of action succeeds because both spouses did not consent to encumber their community property due to their failure to present any undisputed fact to show that they held the production rights as community property and due to the allegation in the FAC that they held those rights in joint tenancy.

The Court DENIES the defendants' motion for summary judgment on the ground that they have failed to meet their prima facie burden of showing that the FAC is without merit because they have not presented any undisputed facts to show that they did not make the representations that the water production rights were not included in the security for the loan as alleged by the plaintiffs in the Third Cause of Action for Intentional Misrepresentation, the Fourth Cause of Action for Negligent Misrepresentation, the Fifth Cause of Action for Fraud by Concealment, and the Ninth Cause of Action for Unfair Business Practices.

The Court GRANTS defendants' motion for summary adjudication of their Issue No. 1 on the ground that plaintiffs have met their prima facie burden of showing that the production rights are real property rights that were not expressly excepted from Mr. Lounsbury's conveyance of his interest in the real property to Ms. Lounsbury, thus meaning that he has no standing to assert those rights and the alleged fraudulent actions of the defendants occurred after his conveyance of his interest in those rights and so did not cause him any damage. Plaintiffs have failed to show the existence of any triable issue of material fact as to Mr. Lounsbury's standing.

The Court GRANTS defendants' motion for summary adjudication of their Issue No. 2 and determines that there is no merit to plaintiffs' First Cause of Action for Quiet Title, Second Cause of Action for Declaratory Relief, Sixth Cause of Action for Slander of Title, Seventh Cause of Action for Intentional Interference with Prospective Economic Advantage and Eighth Cause of Action for Negligent Interference with Prospective Economic Advantage because defendants have met their prima facie burden of showing that the production rights at issue in those causes of action were appurtenant to the real property and passed with that real property unless they were expressly excluded from conveyance and plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden of showing that there is a triable issue of material fact as to whether they severed those rights from the real property.
