GOLDEN STATE WATER COMPANY'S RESPONSE TO WATERMASTER'S OBJECTION TO
ANTHONY BROWN'S DECLARATION

Date: October 2, 2024
Time: 8:30 am
Dept.: 1
Judge: Hon. Craig G. Reimer

Reservation ID: 562595011427

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Golden State Water Company (“GSWC”) responds to Watermaster’s Objection to Anthony
3 Brown’s Declaration (“Objection”) to the evidence submitted by GSWC in support of its Motion to 4 Enforce the Judgment (“Motion”) for the following reasons.

5 II. PRELIMINARY STATEMENT¹

6 A. Applicable Standard

7 Any Party may bring a motion to review “[a]ny action, decision, rule or procedure of 8 Watermaster.” (Judgment, ¶ 36.) Every motion must be supported by substantial evidence and all
9 parties are entitled to a hearing to admit evidence. (See, e.g., Antelope Valley Groundwater Cases
10 (2020) 59 Cal.App.5th 241, 249, 260; Hillside Memorial Park & Mortuary v. Golden State Water
11 Co. (2011) 205 Cal.App.4th 534, 538-539, 549; Judgment, ¶ 36(d).) In its July 3, 2024 Order on the 12 Watermaster’s Annual Motion to Adjust Free Production Allowance for Water Year 2024-2025
13 (“FPA Order”), this Court made clear that:

14 [a]ny expert opinions offered either in support of or in opposition to 15 any motion shall be limited to opinions that (a) are stated to be more 16 likely than not true and (b) are supported by such analysis and evidence to allow a finder of fact to understand the reasons for that opinion. (FPA Order, p. 7, ¶ 3.)

17 Mr. Anthony Brown is the founder, Chief Executive Officer, and Principal Hydrologist at 18 aquilogic, Inc. (“aquilogic”). (Declaration of Anthony Brown (“Brown Decl.”), ¶ 3.) Mr. Brown’s
19 Declaration summarizes² his education, training, expertise, particularly with respect to the 20 evaluation of groundwater resources, details his background and familiarity with the Judgment and 21 relevant proceedings in this matter, and describes his scope of work in this matter, specifically:

22 I supervised and performed the analysis set forth in the September
23 2024 Expert Report of Anthony Brown: Hydrologic Conditions and 24 Water Flow Between the Alto Subarea and the Centro Subarea of the Mojave Basin (“Expert Report”). A true and correct copy of my Expert Report is attached as Exhibit 1 to GSWC Evidence.

26 ¹ This Preliminary Statement is incorporated into each Response to Objection set forth in Section
III, post.

27 ² A complete copy of Mr. Brown’s extensive curriculum vitae is located at Appendix C of the 2024
28 Expert Report of Anthony Brown: Hydrologic Conditions and Water Flow Between the Alto
Subarea and the Centro Subarea of the Mojave Basin (“Expert Report”). (Expert Report, App. C [GSWC 0116-0146]; see also Brown Decl., ¶¶ 4-5.)

1 (Brown Decl., ¶ 10 [emphasis in original].) Given the Expert Report is approximately 160 pages
2 long, for the convenience of the Court and parties, it was filed separately in GSWC’s compendium
3 of evidence. (See GSWC Evidence in Support of Motion to Enforce, Vol. 1, Exh. 1 [GSWC 0002-
4 0161].)

5 Mr. Brown’s Declaration re-states each of Mr. Brown’s six key expert opinions which are 6 based on the data and analysis contained in his Expert Report. (Brown Decl., ¶ 10; GSWC 0014.)

7 With regard to all six of Mr. Brown’s opinions, he states:

8 The key opinions listed below [and re-stated in Mr. Brown’s Declaration] 9 have been reached after careful review and analysis of available and 10 pertinent information regarding the Basin.... All opinions are (a) more likely than not true, (b) are supported by analysis and evidence to allow a finder of fact to understand the reasons for that opinion, and (c) have been reached with a reasonable degree of scientific certainty.

11 (GSWC 0014.)

12 Mr. Brown reviewed historical stream flow data, analysis of the hydrology and hydrogeology 13 of the Centro and Alto Subarea (including the Transition Zone), and Watermaster’s recent update of 14 the Project Safe Yield (“PSY”) calculation for each of the Subareas. (Brown Decl., ¶ 7.) He also 15 reviewed the Judgment, Court’s September 16, 2022 Order wherein the Court tasked the 16 Watermaster with updating the PSY for all Subareas of the Basin Area, Thirtieth Annual Report of 17 the Mojave Basin Area Watermaster, Water Year 2022-23, including Appendix L, and the Court’s
18 July 3, 2024 Order ruling on the Watermaster’s Annual Motion to Adjust Free Production Allowance
19 for Water Year 2024-25. (Brown Decl. ¶¶ 8-9.) For preparation of the Expert Report, Mr. Brown
20 also reviewed numerous Watermaster reports, hydrogeologic reports and documents, and reviewed
21 GSWC’s pumping data. (Brown Decl., ¶¶ 12-14; GSWC 0040-0042, 0105-0106, 0987.) Mr. Brown
22 also performed and supervised the analyses within the Expert Report, including analyses of the 23 Watermaster water budget and 2024 PSY update (Section 4.0), the statistical analysis of groundwater
24 level correlations and trends in GSWC wells (Section 5.0) in order to arrive at his opinions and 25 recommendations (Section 2.0 and 6.0). (See GSWC 0014-0161.)

26 Thus, Mr. Brown’s expert opinions easily qualify for admissibility under the applicable legal 27 standard and Watermaster’s Objection is baseless. (Evid. Code, §§ 801-802.) The above references
28 and data are “personally known” to Mr. Brown, are “of a type that reasonably may be relied upon

1 by an expert in forming an opinion upon the subject to which his testimony rests” and are not
2 precluded by law. (Evid. Code, § 801(b).) In fact, many of the referenced materials are either
3 prepared by Watermaster or relied upon by the Watermaster. In addition, Mr. Brown’s Declaration
4 and Expert Report clearly provide opinions and “the reasons for his opinion and the matter . . . upon
5 which it is based[.]” (Evid. Code, § 802.) Accordingly, the Court should reject Watermaster’s
6 Objection to Mr. Brown’s evidence-based and reasoned opinions. (See Sargon Enterprises, Inc. v.
7 University of Southern California (2012) 55 Cal.4th 747, 772 “[C]ourts must also be cautious in 8 excluding expert testimony. The trial court's gatekeeping role does not involve choosing between 9 competing expert opinions.”].)

10 B. Timeliness

11 In general, written objections to evidence must be filed and served at the same time as the 12 objecting party’s opposition. For example, California Rule of Court, rule 3.1354, subdivision (a) 13 provides:

14 Unless otherwise excused by the court on a showing of good cause,
15 all written objections to evidence in support of or in opposition to a 16 motion for summary judgment or summary adjudication must be served and filed at the same time as the objecting party's opposition or reply papers are served and filed.

17 (Id. [Emphasis added].) Subdivisions (b) and (c) of California Rule of Court, rule 3.1354, further
18 specifies the format for an objection. Although no specific Rule of Court applies in this unique
19 procedural scenario—motion practice in a post-judgment groundwater adjudication—California
20 Rule of Court, rule 3.1354 provides the most appropriate timing and process for filing an objection
21 to evidence proffered in support of a motion.

22 Watermaster’s Opposition to GSWC’s Motion was filed and served on September 18, 2024.
23 Watermaster’s Objection, dated September 20, 2024, was served on September 23, 2024—five days
24 late. (Declaration of Stephanie Hastings in support of GSWC’s Reply (“Hastings Decl.”), ¶ 4.)
25 Further, Watermaster has not provided evidence to support a showing of good cause for the Court
26 to excuse the untimeliness of the Objection. Finally, the Objection also is not in the form specified 27 by California Rule of Court, rule 3.1354, subdivisions (b) and (c).
28

1 III. EVIDENTIARY OBJECTIONS

2 To aid the Court in its review of Watermaster’s Objections to Mr. Brown’s Declaration and
 3 GSWC’s responses thereto, GSWC has reproduced Watermaster’s objections in the form specified
 4 in California Rule of Court, rule 3.1354, below.

5 Objections to Declaration of Anthony Brown
6 Objection Number 1: Anthony Brown declaration
7 Grounds for Objection:	8 Response to Objection:
9 1. I“To be admissible, an expert’s opinion 10 must be supported by sufficient facts to 11 validate it in the eyes of the finder of fact 12 (Eddins v. Redstone (2005) 134 13 Cal.App.4th 290, 317). Expert opinion 14 unaccompanied by reasoned explanation 15 connecting factual predicates to ultimate 16 conclusion has no evidentiary value (Dina 17 v. People ex rel Dep’t of Transp. (2007) 18 151 Cal.App.4th 1029, 1049).” (Objection, 19 pp. 1:26-2:2.)	20 1. Mr. Brown’s Declaration, and Mr. Brown’s 21 accompanying Expert Report (GSWC 0002-0161), 22 and the additional supporting documentation 23 contained in 3 volumes of GSWC Evidence (GSWC 24 0162-0987), contain the facts and materials relied 25 upon by Mr. Brown in reaching his opinions. (Brown 26 Decl. ¶¶ 8-9, 12-14.) 27 The Expert Report provides as follows: 28 The key opinions listed below have been reached after careful review and analysis of available and pertinent information regarding the Basin. Certain other statements contained within this report and accompanying appendices may also be considered opinions. All opinions are (a) more likely than not true, (b) are supported by analysis and evidence to allow a finder of fact to understand the reasons for that opinion, and (c) have been reached with a reasonable degree of scientific certainty. Accepted methodologies and analyses widely used by professionals practicing in the fields of hydrology and water resources management have been employed to develop the opinions. (GSWC 0014 [emphasis added]; Brown Decl., ¶ 11.) The summary of opinions explains the factual predicates for each reasoned opinion in a stepwise fashion to allow the Court to understand each analytical step. Therefore, Mr. Brown’s Declaration and his Expert Report meet Watermaster’s purported evidentiary standards. To the extent Watermaster is arguing that Mr. Brown’s Declaration is insufficient because it does not restate the entirety of the Expert Report, such argument is meritless. Evidence Code section 801(b) provides that an expert’s opinion must be “[b]ased on matter (including his special knowledge, skill, experience, training, and education) perceived

	by or personally known to the witness or made known to him at or before the hearing, whether or not admissible, that is of a type that reasonably may be relied upon by an expert in forming an opinion upon the subject to which his testimony relates, unless an expert is precluded by law from using such matter as a basis for his own opinion.” In other words, the expert’s opinion itself (i.e., the declaration) does not need to include all the underlying matter it is based on—the standard is that it be “based on” the matters listed in Evidence Code section 801(b). (See also Cal. Rules of Court, rule 31110(d) [permitting cross-references in any motion to other filings, like the Expert Report, which are before the court].) Moreover, the cases cited by the Watermaster are inapposite. In Eddins v. Redstone (2005) 134 Cal.App.4th 290, the expert opinion at issue (that a price of $22 per video tape was a “supra-competitive price”) plainly conflicted with the evidence that the competitive price was approximately $40 higher ($65 per tape). (Id. p. 317.) Here, for example, Mr. Brown reviewed available GSWC pumping data (GSWC 0987), analyzed it (GSWC 0028-0033, 0049, 0060-0076), prepared the Expert Report, and made reasoned conclusions about the data reviewed and analyzed. (GSWC 0014, 0032-0033.) Watermaster also cites Dina v. People ex rel Dep’t of Transp. (2007) 151 Cal.App.4th 1029. Dina concerns objections to testimony regarding the causal connection between a highway construction project causing physical damage to property. (Id. at 1049.) Namely, the Dina court rejected an expert opinion that concluded “the cracks in the property must have been caused by the freeway construction, because . . . the cracks did not exist earlier.” (Ibid.) Unlike Dina, Mr. Brown provides a reasoned analysis of Watermaster’s water budget, based on available data and records, and employing the best science and engineering techniques. (See, e.g., GSWC 0014, 0024-0027, 0032-0033.)
2. “Mr. Brown has not performed any independent analysis or investigation of the cause(s) of declining water levels in the GSWC wells located approximately 20 miles from the Alto Subarea. Instead, Mr. Brown merely relies upon and repeats a conclusion in the Aquilogic report. While that might be sufficient in some instances, it is not sufficient here. That is so (as demonstrated in Watermaster’s Opposition to the GSWC motion), because the analysis	2. This assertion is patently false and ignores that Mr. Brown is the lead author of the Expert Report (GSWC 0002, 0012-13), which specifically evaluates potential causes of declining water levels in GSWC wells, including a statistical analysis of water levels in GSWC to determine if GSWC pumping is contributing to water level declines (GSWC 0028-33). Mr. Brown’s expert opinion is offered to show: (1) it is “more likely [than not] that recharge to Centro from Alto has decreased and contributed to the observed chronic water level declines” (GSWC

performed by Aquilogic.” (Objection, p. 2:4-9.)	0014), and (2) Watermaster’s “simplified water budget is not adequately detailed and does not employ current approaches used throughout California” (GSWC 0014, 0080-0086). It is not offered to disprove every possible theory for why water levels in and around GSWC’s wells may be declining, including but not limited to all of the proffered deficiencies included in Watermaster’s Objection, because GSWC has no obligation to do so. (See Sargon Enters., Inc. v University of S. Cal. (2012) 55 Cal.4th 747, 772 [“The court does not resolve scientific controversies. Rather, it conducts a ‘circumscribed inquiry’ to ‘determine whether, as a matter of logic, the studies and other information cited by experts adequately support the conclusion that the expert’s general theory or technique is valid.’”] [Citation omitted]; see also GSWC’s Reply Brief (“Reply”), Section III.)
3. “Fails to consider or explain why Centro Subarea wells located closest to the Alto Subarea have experienced stable water levels, evidencing that recharge to the Centro Subarea had not decreased;” (Objection, p. 2:10-12.)	3. GSWC’s responses above are incorporated herein. (See also GSWC’s Reply, Section III.) Mr. Brown acknowledges that based on the information made available by Watermaster (see GSWC 0346), it would appear that not all wells in the Centro Subarea have declining water levels (GSWC 0025). But Mr. Brown concludes that many wells continue to experience declining water levels, despite decreasing production, suggesting that inflows into the Centro Subarea likely have decreased. (GSWC 0009, 0014, 0025.) Watermaster’s argument that “Centro Subarea wells located closest to the Alto Subarea have experienced stable water levels, evidencing that recharge to the Centro Subarea had not decreased” is just that—argument, which itself is not supported with evidence sufficient to demonstrate that it is “more likely than not” true. (See generally GSWC 0001-0161.)
4. “Fails to consider the amount of flow from the Alto Subarea lost to recharge of groundwater underlying the dry river bed in the nearly 20 mile expanse between the eastern border of the Alto Subarea and the GSWC well field;” (Objection, p. 2:13-15.)	4. GSWC’s responses above are incorporated herein. (See also GSWC’s Reply, Section III.)
5. “Is not conclusive as to whether the groundwater extractions by GSWC and others in the vicinity of the GSWC wells is a cause of the observed declining water levels;” (Objection, p. 2:16-17.)	5. There is no legal requirement that expert opinion must be “conclusive,” as Watermaster argues and Watermaster provides no legal citation for its argument. Mr. Brown acknowledges that groundwater production may play a minor component of observed decrease, but he concludes that “[o]ther factors, such as insufficient water supply (i.e., low/decreased inflows from Alto/TZ) appear to play a major role in observed increases in depth to water over time.” (GSWC 0032.)

6. “Fails to consider other possible causes of the declining water levels in its well field, including flow-impeding faults, frequency and intensity of storms, groundwater flow patterns and transmissivity distribution (ability of the sediments to transmit water to the wells), flow migrating to the Harper Valley or Iron Mountain areas, etc.” (Objection, p. 2:18-21.)	6. GSWC’s responses above are incorporated herein. (See also GSWC’s Reply, Section III.)
7. “Relies upon admittedly inaccurate and unreliable data from the Wild Crossing Gage during the limited time period from 1966 to 1970; and” (Objection, p. 2:22-23.)	7. Watermaster’s assertion is false. The Watermaster already concedes this point. (WM Opp., p. 3:12; p. 3, fn 1.) The Expert Report contains a prior analysis prepared by aquilogic, the February 2024 Progress Report and Mojave Basin Transition Zone Water Budget, as Appendix A, that includes, among other things, an analysis of Wild Crossing Gage data. (GSWC 0080-0092.)
8. “Is based upon the incorrect assumption that the Alto Subarea owes a Subarea Obligation to the Centro Subarea, i.e., “There is currently a deficit in the volume of water producers in the Alto Subarea are obligated under the Judgment to deliver as recharge to the Centro Subarea” (Brown Decl., 5:3-5)” (Objection, p. 2:24-27.)	8. Assuming arguendo the validity of Watermaster’s legal argument (see Reply, pp. 6-9), Mr. Brown’s expert opinion, as set forth in this Declaration and Expert Report, concludes it is “likely that recharge to the Centro Subarea from the Alto Subarea has decreased” and that “Watermaster for the Adjudicated Basin should take actions to better quantify recharge to [the] Centro Subarea, notable stream flows in the Mojave River and subsurface flow. (GSWC 0014; Brown Decl., ¶ 11.) Mr. Brown’s interpretation of the Judgment does not impair the admissibility and reasoning of the opinions expressed in his Declaration or the Expert Report. (Evid. Code, § 805 [testimony that is otherwise admissible “is not objectionable because it embraces the ultimate issue to be decided by the trier of fact.”].)
9. “Therefore, Mr. Brown’s expert opinion that “it is more likely that recharge to the Centro Subarea from the Alto Subarea has decreased and contributed to the observed chronic water level declines” in GSWC’s well field, is inadmissible because it is not supported by sufficient facts to validate his opinion, and it is unaccompanied by a reasoned opinion connecting factual predicates to his ultimate conclusion.” (Objection p. 3:1-5.)	9. GSWC’s responses above are incorporated herein. (See also GSWC’s Reply, Section III.) As shown above, this opinion is admissible in accordance with the FPA Order and applicable law. Moreover, even assuming arguendo that Court were to find this specific opinion inadmissible, that determination would not affect the admissibility of the entire Brown Declaration or Expert Report. (Evid. Code, §§ 801-802.)
